Key Selling Points

- Year of the Mouse, Ox and Tiger designs
- Completes sequence of first 12 designs
- Bullion quality 99.9% pure silver
- Australian legal tender
- Trusted investment option
- Outstanding numismatic appeal
- Struck on 'Mint-to-Order' basis

The final offering of The Perth Mint's first Australian Lunar Silver Bullion Coin Series comprises releases celebrating the 2008 Year of the Mouse, the 2009 Year of the Ox and the 2010 Year of the Tiger. The simultaneous release of three new designs means that all 12 animals associated with the ancient Chinese Lunar Calendar are now represented on coins in this popular series.

Struck from 99.9% pure silver and issued as legal tender under the Australian Currency Act 1965, the Australian Lunar Silver Bullion Coin Series represents a secure and convenient means of investing in precious metals.

Designs

The latest Australian Lunar Silver Bullion Coin releases portray a Mouse, an Ox or a Tiger. Each shiny design appears on a delicately frosted background. The reverse of each coin also incorporates the Chinese character for the relevant animal and its Chinese lunar year-date.

The Ian Rank-Broadley effigy of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and the 2007 year-date appear on the obverse of each new coin.

Mintage

The 2008 Year of the Mouse, the 2009 Year of the Ox and the 2010 Year of the Tiger designs are available on 1 kilo, 1/2 kilo, 10oz, 5oz, 2oz, 1oz and 1/2oz coins. Each coin will be struck on a 'Mint-to-Order' basis only. Production will close on announcement of the Australian Lunar Silver Series II, enabling The Perth Mint to declare official coin mintages.

Presentation

Each Australian Lunar Silver Bullion Coin is packaged in a protective acrylic capsule.
